

When People Ask You What You Do

When people ask you what you do you can respond with a question to create an interest. If they say “YES” to your question or want to learn more you then tell them what you do.

PRODUCT

Q: Do you know how people are concerned about their health, have no energy and feel tired all the time?

A: Well, what I do is show people how to live a healthier life and have more energy!

BUSINESS

Q: Do you know how people worry about their financial future in this economy and can't seem to get ahead?

A: Well, what I do is show people how to create an extra source of income.

MOTHERS

Q: Do you know how many mothers wish they could be at home with their children?

A: Well, what I do is show moms how to make money from home so they can watch their kids grow up!